Beginner Guide to Creating Abstracts

This class addresses what abstracts are and how to practice good design techniques for better abstracts. The ability to "see" what is happening in a piece and working with what is already there establishes a foundation for the abstract design.

Pam has been painting for over 20 years. Her introduction to abstract art 11 years ago left her very confused and although abstracts are intriguing, she was lacking in the ability to start one until she learned design in a watercolor class. Her application to the design techniques helped her develop a solid understanding of how to create abstracts. Although most of what she does is playing around, this is a fantastic way to practice working out designs that can apply to abstracts as well as more realistic art.

REGISTRATION DEADLINE:  Monday, July 26th
